

Cancel exams to save students

Previous | Next

Exam stress is a key reason why students are dropping out of school - so the exams are being scrapped. From 2011, three out of the five external exams will be ended. The Fiji Intermediate Examination (FIE), the Fiji Eighth Year (FEYE) and Fiji Junior Certificate (FJC) will be abolished.

The exams will be replaced by continuous assessment. The first exam that students will face in the future will be at Sixth Form.

It is hoped that this move will decrease the number of students who are currently dropping out of school.

- High School bans Bible Club
- What the future looks like...
- Prayers for Exam Stress
- Spanish parents uproar at school plans
- 71% of pupils are bullies
- "Gay Day" in California schools
- Bible teaching grows for Ghanaian youth
- Homeschooling parents sent to prison
- Exam success throughout the UK
- Spanish schooling too easy
- Palestinian Music School for youth destroyed
- Truancy rates hit a record low
- Young People are Less Intelligent
- CYM's Children's Degree
- Mother in court for son's truancy
- Toy sale provides school opportunities
- India's teacher training crisis
- New teaching initiatives in Lebanon
- Saudi Arabia begins reform of school curriculum
- Duke of Edinburgh success in Fiji
- New School for Refugees

- Child Labour Day - facts and figures
- Online rating for teachers by pupils gets go-ahead
- Nepal drive for more children to enrol at school
- Chinese scholars top EU list
- Fijian Youth are sexually unaware
- New Saudi University is Co-Ed
- Too many NEET young people

0 Comments Posted Leave a comment

Add a comment:

Sign in to comment on this entry. (Required)

 Back to top

 Previous | Next