

Children die in Nepal tragedy

Previous | Next

23 people have died in Eastern Nepal after a wall collapsed at a Church Convention. 1,500 Christians were in Dharan for the Convention. Many were getting ready to sleep during a period of very heavy rainfall. The weight of the people against the wall in torrential conditions was just too much and it collapsed.

Many were buried under the bamboo poles and subsequently died of suffocation.

The Conference was being held by the El-Shaddai Church, which is based in Darjeeling, India.

- Young Nepali creates bizarre world record
- Threat to Christians after church bombing
- Nepal drive for more children to enrol at school
- Youth Priest Murdered in Nepal
- International adoptions begin again

47

1 Comments Posted Leave a comment investment Bristol (Blue Point) Oh very humiliating incident. I am depressed about the children which lost his life in this. We should take lesson from the Nepal incident. we should take proper step when ever any natural hazard approach on us.investment in Stevenage.

Add a comment:

Sign in to comment on this entry. (Required)

 Back to top

 Previous | Next