

A 10-year old girl was so sick of listening to her Granny moaning that she tried to sell her on eBay. Zoe Pemberton described her gran, 61-year old Marian Goodall, as "rare and annoying and moaning a lot".

Within hours, she received bids of £20,541 for her Gran. However, eBay eventually closed the auction as it transgressed policies on human trafficking.

Zoe's dad said that she loves her Gran really - but they had had a small falling out. eBay said they were impressed to see so many bids and were happy to see the fun side of this!
